Brings Technology to the Market 2017

Daniel has conducted several measurement and quantity studies of marinas and seaports. To reduce the pollution footprint and document port emissions and plan the future changes.

Daniel surveys and designs solution that can be deployed efficiently .

Daniel's technologies reduce highly polluting port sites and vessel emissions.

Brings Technology to the Market

Daniel is a specialist in the field of design and supply of engine systems to Data Centers Banks and critical power hub peak use plants. Using his Skills in Energy Storage and Vendors Resources Daniel Can drop emissions of large stationary engines and advance the secure supply and storage of energy to any scale.

Making Friends in Gas Distribution 2018

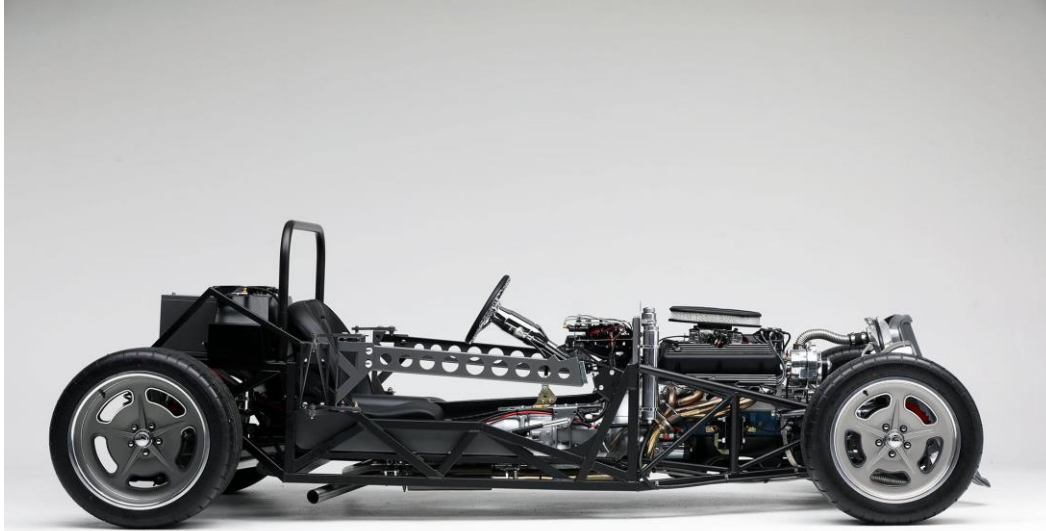

Daniel during 2018 start work with several large hydrogen retail station and companies in the field to increase the build supply renewable gas infrastructures. Most notable is First Element California who own over 80 sites .
